CRACK TRAIN HELD UP BY BANDITS NEAR ALTOONA, PA., ON SATURDAY; MAIL CLERK SERIOUSLY WOUNDED

Fastest P. R. R. Train Between New Lork and Chicago Rifled By Several Masked Men in Lonely Spot in Allegheny Mountains.

Altoona, Pa., July 30.—The Manhattan limited, fastest train on the Pennsylvania railroad between New York and Chicago was held up and robbed by several masked bandits early today at an isolated spot in the fastnesses of the Allegheny mountains, about 30 miles west of this city. Letters were rifled of an unknown sum in the mail car and one mail clerk was shot and slightly wounded during an argument with one of the robbers.

The robbers who had been riding the rods of the mail car emerged from their concealment after the train had

EXPECT COMING WINTER TO BE HARD ON MANY

Situation Thought to Be Worse Than Any Time in Last 25 Years.

TWO CAUSES SEEN

Lack of Houses and Unemployment Given as Reasons.

New York July 30.—The wolf at the door is going to be fiercer this winter than for the past 25 years.

The Salvation Army is making unprecedented plans to relieve suffering and distress among the poor.

But the margin will be small. Evangelina Booth head of the army's force in America declared today. All indications are that the coming winter will be the worst in a quarter of a century.

There are going to be two principal difficulties—lack of housing and unemployment.

The army bases its assumption that the coming winter is going to be severe upon the number of persons at present dependent upon it for shelter. Whereas in previous years the army's industrial homes have always been half empty in the summer time, they are "jam full" now and more people are trying to get in. And those that are in are going to stay—no taking chances on a shelter when the snow begins to fall.

Then there's the question of unemployment, with the army secretaries hard put to find jobs for one fourth of the men who apply, and with more applying daily and fewer jobs each week. The army no longer deals with the downfallen and the bum. Men and women with responsible jobs, or capable of filling them, are applying to the S. A. for better positions. One man who has been making $10,000 a year applied to the New York headquarters and they got him a job he was grateful to take—at $12 a week.

Applications for work are 70 per cent greater than last year. Jobs are becoming scarcer and scarcer. What the army plans to do is start a complete canvas of all industries with a view to placing some of the needy before winter sets in.

Another indication of hard times is the youth of the men in the morning "bread lines." Where once doddering old men stumbled up for the daily handout, young men and boys now find the army lines their only chance of a meal.

The army needs buildings and needs them badly and at once, Miss Booth says. Throughout the country it is encountering great difficulty in finding places to house the growing number of dependents.

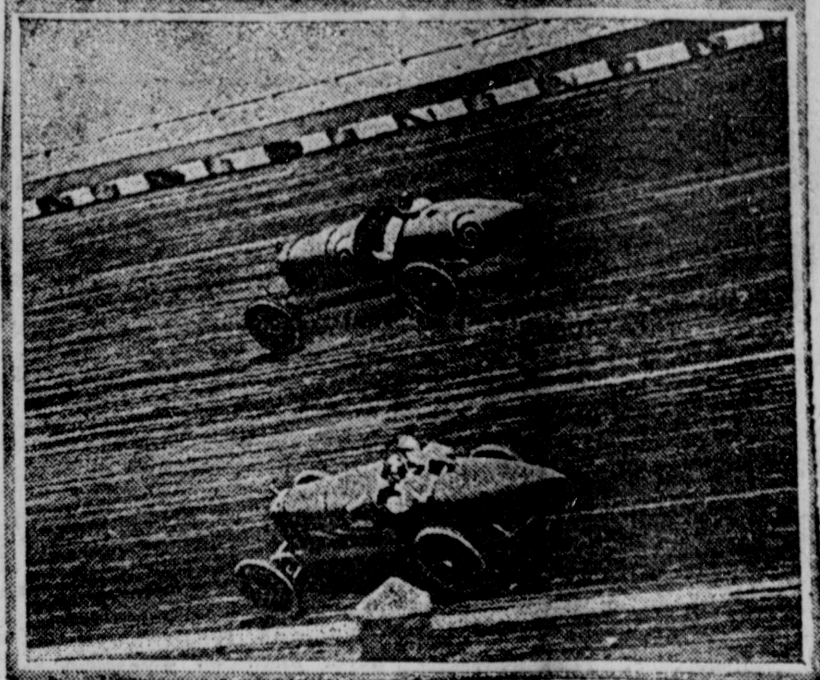

A plan is on foot to consolidate the charitable efforts of some of the largest organizations in the country to cope with the coming hard times. The Red Cross and other large charitable societies will join in seeing what can be done to keep away the wolf.

ONE KILLED; THREE HURT IN BATTLE

Harlan, Ky., July 30.—One man, John Turner, was killed, two men and a woman were wounded in a gun battle at Harlan, this county, last night. The wounded are Carl Middleton perhaps fatal; Lige Fields shot in the thigh and Mrs. Katherine White, shot in the leg below the knee. Turner was killed outright. He was the only combatant using a pistol. The others had high powered rifles, except Shade who had a shot gun.

The battle occurred at the railroad station when the four Fields brothers and Sam P. Blevin lined up against Turner and Middleton.

SARLES WINS WORLD AUTO SPRINT RACE

Roscoe Sarles now has the title of world's champion automobile sprint driver. In two heats of ten miles each and a final of twenty-five miles he defeated Tommy Milton at the Los Angeles Speedway. His average time on the big oval for all three sprints was recorded at 107.8 miles per hour. Twenty thousand speed-crazed fans watched the three victories. The purse was $10,000. The photograph shows Sarles passing Milton on the high bank curves.

Way Open For Substantial Reduction on Freight Rates

Shippers Confident That Sweeping Cuts in Domestic Rates on Important Farm Products Will Soon
Be Authorized in Country.

Washington, July 30.—Producers of farm products by forcing a voluntary agreement of the railroads to reduce export grain rates, have successfully opened up the way for substantial reductions in freight rates on staple commodities. The shippers are confident that sweeping cuts in domestic rates on important farm products will soon be authorized.

Action of the rail executives in sanctioning an application for a 25 per cent cut on rates on export grain from Great Lake ports to the seaboard over eastern railroads is expected to be followed soon by similar measures to readjust the rates on grain from central territory to seaboard points. The reduction just agreed upon of five cents a hundred pounds on wheat, corn and rye, from Buffalo, Erie and Fairport, to New York and other seaboard destinations, is expected to result in a similar reduction from points from central territory.

Shippers are preparing to ask the interstate commerce commission to remove the 25 per cent advances which went into effect last August in western territory on all domestic shipments of important grain products and also to eliminate the 35 per cent rate which was given the Pacific group of railroads on practically all commodities.

Western shippers contend there is no longer any need to stifle business with rates that are prohibitive in that the cost realized on many important commodities will not pay the freight rates.

Practically all of the large shippers organizations of the west were said at the interstate commerce commission today to be ready to appear before the commission on August 15 and urge that the horizontal increases which were granted under the railroad's war demand for more money be rescinded and that the rates be restored to the pre-war basis.

ABANDON HUNT FOR TIME BEING FOR EDUCATOR

Mrs. W. E. Stone Will Be Brought to Banff On Stretcher.

Banff, Alberta, July 30.—Search for the body of Dr. W. E. Stone, president of Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., who was killed July 16 in a fall from a cliff while attempting to climb Mount Eanon, has proved unavailing, according to reports brought here from the rescue party. The searchers it is said, are becoming exhausted and it is probable that another and better equipped party will be sent out to seek the body of the Indian educator.

Mrs. Stone who was with her husband when the accident occurred and who spent five days without food on a narrow ledge of rock, is still at an improvised camp near the base of Mount Eanon. Preparations are being made to bring her to Banff.

Because of the nature of the trail to Banff and the condition of Mrs. Stone the journey will be an arduous one. The distance is 55 miles and except for a short stretch across Mervel lake must be made on foot or by pack horse. The trail runs through unusually rugged country crossing many abysses and ascending many precipitous slopes. The doctor in attendance upon Mrs. Stone believes she is now out of danger but it will be necessary to carry her by stretcher from the camp to Banff because of her weakened condition.

FIRE LOSS INCREASES DURING JUNE 1921

Columbus, July 30.—The fire loss for the month of June, 1921, was $489,213 as against $451,539 in June, 1920, and $316,662 in 1919. State Fire Marshal H. A. Dykeman announced today. The past June had 331 fires; June 1920, 246 fires, and June 1919, 277 fires. The increase this year is due to carelessness and possibly also to the moral hazard and unstable business conditions. There were also a number of large losses this June which swelled the amount.

THIRTEEN THOUSAND STRIKING JAPANESE SHIP BUILDERS TAKE PART IN RIOTS

Tokio, July 30.—One hundred persons were injured in a terrific outbreak of rioting at the Kawasaki ship and dock yards in Kobe on Friday. Thirteen thousand striking ship builders took part. Martial law has been proclaimed at Kobe. Eighty policemen gave battle to

COLLECT INSURANCE WHEN RAIN FALLS

Cleveland, July 30.—Faced by a deficit in the city's 125th anniversary celebration, Cleveland today rejoiced that she has taken out rain insurance whereunder she will collect $2,000,000 insurance money, because it rained to the extent of two tenths of an inch last yesterday. The policy had cost $2,350 and was good for a nine days guarantee against two tenths of an inch rain on any afternoon.

PLOTTERS ORDERED OUT OF DAYTON

Dayton, O., July 30.—Paul T. Weldon, 24 Somerville, Mass., Philman, DeRosier, 30 Cohors, New York and Walter Ford 26, Providence R. I., were given until 2 p. m. today to get out of Dayton, following their admission to Police Judge Powell that they had made a proposal to blow up the City Railway company's car barns. A union man, former employee of the line told police that he had been asked by the men who offered to destroy the property for a proper payment. Police says the trio admitted the facts following arrest and said they wished to gain union support as they had not been well treated since coming here to work on the striking lines. Fines of $50 and 30 days in the workhouse for loitering were imposed and the order to get out of town issued. One of the men, police say was employed on the line, while others were awaiting credentials to allow them to accept posts.

France Wins Contest With England Over Meeting Date

Serious Situation in Anglo-French Relations Will Likely Cause Postponement of Session of Supreme Council Called for Thursday.

London, July 30.—France has apparently won today in her contest with Great Britain to have the meeting of the inter-allied supreme council postponed from August 4, the date originally set.

"It is becoming increasingly unlikely that the supreme council will meet next Thursday owing to the serious situation that has been created in Anglo-French relations by the French note of Wednesday and the British reply of Thursday," said the diplomatic correspondent of the Daily News.

"It is unlikely that the text of the notes will be made public but it is certain that no such documents have passed between two friendly powers in many years. The French note accused the British of adopting a pro-German and an anti-French attitude that was calculated to lead to open antagonism. The British reply pointed out that France has no special position to maintain regarding Upper Silesia but that the question of sending troop reinforcements belongs to all the associated powers.

MILLIONAIRE WILL NOT PAY BILLS OF HIS DANCER WIFE

Mrs. John A. Hoagland, whose millionaire husband says he is "not responsible" for the bill of $11,306.20 for which her modiste has sued him, until her marriage in 1916, to the New York millionaire, Mrs. Hoagland was "Billie" Allen, one of Broadway's most popular dancers. She was at one time the dancing partner of the late Vernon Castle.

TROOPS ANSWER RIOT CALL FROM VERMONT TOWN

Striking Workers of Paper Company Alleged to Have Fired Shots

Bellows Falls, Vt., July 30.—Two companies of national guard troops arrived here today to maintain order following rioting in which shots were fired, presumably by striking workers of the International Paper Company mills. The rioting started, according to State's Attorney Whitney when 11 shots were fired from the North Walpole N. H. shore of the Connecticut river into strikebreaker's camp on the Vermont side.

A riot was sent to Rutland and Adjutant General Herbert Johnson ordered out Company 1, of Brattleboro and Company A, of Rutland. The men were loaded into motor trucks and rushed to Bellows Falls where they began the work of policing the town. Trouble has appeared inevitable since the start of the strike. Several minor disturbances occurred when attempts were made to import strikebreakers.

FORMER SUB-BOAT OFFICER PRAISES CONVOY ACTIVITIES

German Explains Mysterious Disappearance of Navy Collier.

Philadelphia, July 30.—The navy collier Cyclops which furnished the greatest mystery of the war by its unexplained disappearance, fell a prey to the torpedoes of German submarines operating off the South American coast, according to Franz Rottie, now second officer of the Hamburg-American liner Deutchfeld, who was former senior lieutenant on a U-boat during the war. Rottie praised the convoy system developed by Admiral Sims, which he said made it almost impossible for U-boats to sink American transports. The only feasible method of attack was to dive under the protecting destroyer and torpedo the transport inside the convoy line, a risk which few U-boat officers were willing to take, he said.

The lieutenant described U-boat operations off the English coast in which his boat was badly damaged by two "mystery ships" disguised as trawlers. He bears scars marking where shrapnel caught him as he was closing the conning tower after the submarine crew were forced to abandon their deck gun. On another trip, Lieut. Rottie said his U-boat approached so close to Newcastle, England, that the crew took turns in watching crowds of Sunday promenaders on shore through the periscope.

STEEL MILLS REDUCE PAY ALMOST HALF

Hammond, Ind., July 30.—Notices were posted today at the Inland Steel mills that beginning Monday new rates of pay for day and tonnage work were based on rates in effect in 1917 will be effective.

The basic common labor rate is now 57 cents per hour. On Monday it will be thirty cents an hour, conforming with adjustment made by other steel mills in the district.

PASSENGERS FUME AS SHIP'S CAPTAIN AWAITS AUGUST 1

Shipper of Greek Vessel
Will Land Immigrants
Under New Law

New York, July 30.—Just outside the three mile limit where cooling breezes blow and clinking glasses never empty, 130 American citizens, passengers aboard the Greek liner Megalithas fumed and fretted and got themselves all hot under the collar today to no effect.

The skipper, wise to the new immigration law, just won't bring his ship in until the first of the month. Greece has reached her quota of immigrants for July. But Captain Kayapis knows that if he can delay his arrival until August 1, he can land all of his Greeks under the August quota.

The American citizens among his passengers claim that this business of Greek meeting an emergency is all very well but they want to go ashore. Wireless bombardment of Ellis Island and Washington has proved futile. Authorities say it is up to the liner, so Captain Kayapis swings in his hammock and lets them rave.

AMERICAN WOMAN RELEASED IN RUSSIA

Riga, July 30.—Mrs. Marguerite E. Harrison, of Baltimore, has been freed by the soviet government in Russia. Her release was secured by U. S. Senator Joseph Irwin France of Maryland. Mrs. Harrison and Senator France have arrived here from Russia. Both are well. Mrs. Harrison has lost weight since her imprisonment in Russia but is very cheerful. Senator France said that he had great difficulty in prevailing upon the soviet government to release Mrs. Harrison.

Mrs. Harrison has been a prisoner in Russia since October of last year. She had entered Russia the previous February and for a time was popular in that country and sent many dispatches. These ceased early in October. Senator France went to Russia to investigate at first hand in that country. He had some difficulty in securing permission to enter and it was made part of the permit that he should not attempt to see or communicate with any of the American prisoners. The Sun's staff correspondent who accompanied Senator France to Europe, was not permitted to enter Russia with the senator.

REPORTS STILL CONFLICT OVER EUROPEAN FUSS

Dispatch Says Agreement Has Now Been Reached
On Silesia.

IS CONTRADICTORY

London and Paris Differ
As To Status Of Situation.

Paris, July 30.—As a result of conversations between the French ambassador to England and Premier Briand, the foreign office stated today that an agreement had been reached on Upper Silesia and that the French were yielding to the British demand that the supreme council meet August 4.

Both yesterday and today the news given out in London and Paris upon Anglo-French relations was contradictory. On Friday the British described the French note as a virtual ultimatum while the French said there had been an amicable exchange. Today the London view was that Anglo-French relations were badly strained and the supreme council probably would not meet until August 11. The information in Paris was that the supreme council meeting would not be postponed and that France was yielding to Great Britain.

"Speaking" the political editor of the Echo de Paris, declared that a compromise was being worked out which, it was thought would be agreeable to England. He expressed the opinion that the supreme council meeting would take place Thursday as scheduled.

"The whole thing hinges upon the question whether the Entente is more valuable to France than diplomatic success," said the Journal. "The cabinet has wisely decided not to break off the English alliance." The press was very hopeful today and the opinion was generally expressed that there should be an understanding between France and England before the supreme council meets.

FAMINE IN RUSSIA GREATER THAN IN 1891 SAY REPORTS

More Than 29,000,000 Russians Feel Pinch of Hunger.

Berlin, July 30.—The famine in Russia, is greater than the great famine of 1891. More than 29,000,000 Russians are feeling the pinch of hunger. More than 6,000,000 Russians mostly peasants are in flight from their homes.

The foregoing statements were contained in a letter received today by Madame Gorky from her husband, Maxine Gorky of Moscow.

Madame Gorky, whose stage name is Marie Andrejeva, is in Berlin on theatrical business. She is not engaged in relief work.

"I have no authority to speak officially and anyhow I have been absent from Russia for three months," said Madame Gorky. "My husband expects to join me soon. He tells me that as soon as the autumn harvest comes in all will be well. I have just received a letter from my husband in which he says:

"The distress is appalling and is getting worse. Already the famine is greater than the terrible days of 1891."

"More than 29,000,000 persons are suffering from hunger. More than 6,000,000 are in flight from their homes. Great caravans are travelling from the villages wandering in the plains as far as the eye can see. It is a reminder of the great flight of the Tartar tribes. Millions of men, women and children are engaged in the hopeless search for food."

Gorky is organizing a committee at Moscow to secure both internal and external help of the sufferers.

"The Russian people have acquired the habit of suffering," said Madame Gorky.

DAYTON HAS TWO CITY MANAGERS

Dayton, O., July 30.—Dayton with two city managers was the unique situation here today. F. O. Eichelberger, service director, named by the commission to succeed W. C. Barber, who resigned as city manager two weeks ago and left for Joliet, Ill., last night, took the oath of office this morning. Barber's term expires Sunday midnight. A secretary in the city manager's office is acting city manager in the meantime.

GAMBLING CEASES

Akron, July 30.—While no arrests were made open gambling on the grounds of the carnival company showing in this city abated when officials in uniform visited the grounds.

OVER 4 THOUSAND PEOPLE PRESENT AT CHAUTAUQUA

Several Xenia people attended the opening day program of the Miami Valley Chautauqua Friday. It was estimated that more than four thousand people were present on the opening day of the assembly.

Dr. S. Parks Cadman of Brooklyn lectured in the afternoon and Ash Davis the cartoonist entertained the guests in the evening. Indications point to the fact that the assembly this year will be by far the most successful in the history of the Chautauqua.

Several parties of Xenia citizens are planning to drive to Franklin, Saturday and Sunday. On Saturday the Chicago Operatic Company will entertain both afternoon and evening audiences, and the main attraction Sunday will be William Jennings Bryan, who will deliver his famous lecture, "Brother or Brute."

The Chicago Operatic Company is headed by John B. Miller, the famous tenor and he is assisted by five other established concert artists. Organized a few years ago by Mr. Miller, the Chicago Operatic Company has from its very first appearance on the Chautauqua platform occupied a place of distinction in the musical world.

Music lovers from Xenia are planning to attend the concert Saturday afternoon and evening, remain over Sunday in order to hear the great Commoner speak. They will have an opportunity to enjoy the bathing, boat ing and fishing at the park. A modern cafeteria, hotel, lunch rooms, barber shop, and several boarding houses are equipped to take care of visitors so that there will be little trouble in securing accommodations.

WONDER GIRL OF FRANCE TO BE SEEN SOON IN AMERICA

New York, July 30.—France's wonder girl of the tennis courts soon will be seen in action on this side of the Atlantic.

Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen in the woman's tennis singles championship was scheduled to sail from France today to compete in our national championships and a series of exhibition matches for the benefit of devastated France.

The coming of Mlle. Lenglen is of unusual interest. Her mission on this side of the pond is as big as was that of George Carpentier.

Carpentier came to this country to attempt to conquer one opponent in sport. Mlle. Lenglen comes to compete against a score of the best women tennis players in this country and her task will not be light by any manner of means.

Mrs. Mola Bjurstedt Mallory, holder of the national singles championship is expected to head the list of American stars who will dispute Mlle. Lenglen's attempts to win the title. Mrs. Mallory is still in Europe but is expected to return here in plenty of time for the women's national championship tourney at Forest Hills, August 15.

In addition there will be Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, Miss Mary Browne, and Miss Helen Willis, youthful San Francisco star; Miss Edith Signourney, Mrs. Marion Zinderstein Jessup and Mrs. Benjamin E. Cole of Boston; Miss Eleanor Goss and Miss Helen Pollak of New York; Miss Caroline Gould of St. Louis and Miss Bobbie Esch of Cleveland. Mrs. Cole recently won the national clay courts title at Buffalo. Mrs. George W. Wightman of Boston, now on the Pacific coast, may come east in time for the tournament also. This list of American women players is looked upon as the class of entrants in the tourney at Forest Hills and the mixed doubles in Boston August 22, in which Mlle. Lenglen plans to compete.

Chinese Baby's Wink Her Best Passport.

What's a regulation or two when a baby eyelid flickers flirtatiously at Ellis Island they thought they'd keep little Ninette Lai and her mother, Mrs. Y. C. Lai, out under the Chinese Exclusion act, though the mother is an Englishwoman. But Ninette winked one of those "You wouldn't do that to little me, would you?" winks and the regulations went by the boards. Later it was learned that the father, already ashore, is an inventor and scientist and as such exempted from the ban.

BOOTLEGGING NOW LARGE INDUSTRY WITH BIG PROFITS

New York, July 29.—When you pay $15 for a pint of liquor worth 60 cents where does your money go?

It helps to pay salaries, running expenses and dividends of what is rapidly becoming one of the big industries of the United States—the business of bootlegging.

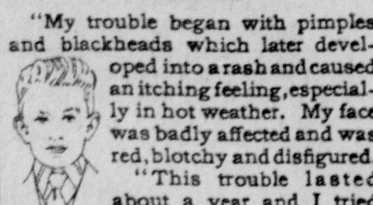

Once an individual matter, as when eighteen months ago, prohibition first became effective, the bootlegging industry has attracted to itself big capital and organizing genius. Today the thirst of America is being catered to by an industry which has more employees than the New York Central Railroad and which supplies millions of gallons of liquor, good, bad and all expensive making a profit of over 2,000 percent.

Organized into trusts, bootleggers feel they can stand the gaff. Moreover shipping combines, to keep the profits from the rum running vessels of the high seas and turn them back into the bootleggers' profits will be possible under syndicate management.

Already in New York the foreshadows of a gigantic rum running industry can be seen in the white light district. Of 14 "speak easy" places, within a mile of Times Square, ten get their entire supply from the same "retailer."

STUDY OF ALGEBRA ELIMINATED FROM REQUIRED WORK

Columbus, July 30.—No longer is algebra to block the way to a high school or college career in Ohio.

This study is declared by the state department of education to be the rock on which more high school careers have been wrecked than for any other cause.

High schools still will be required to offer it to pupils but pupils will not be required to take it.

Director of Education Riegel gives his reasons for asking: "Why should a boy or girl be driven out of high school just because he or she can't master freshmen algebra?"

The next greatest change in the revised high school standards effective in September, is the requirement that a half-year course in the study of vocations and occupations, their purposes, advantages and disadvantages, be given to high school freshmen. This course is to be known as vocational guidance.

Thirdly, one of the 16 units of a complete high school course in the future may be for music.

The fourth change is the requirement of general science for one year. Formerly the requirement was "a science," and frequently schools insisted on all students studying a particular science, like physics.

All these changes worked out primarily by W. B. Bliss, assistant director of education, were approved yesterday at a conference of university representatives called by Director Riegel. Those present were Dean W. E. Henderson of the college of arts of Ohio State, D. W. Pearce of Kent Normal, W. W. McEntire of Ohio University, H. B. Williams of Bowling Green Normal and J. B. McMillan of Miami University.

ABLE TO DO HER WORK

After Long Suffering Mrs. Siefert Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

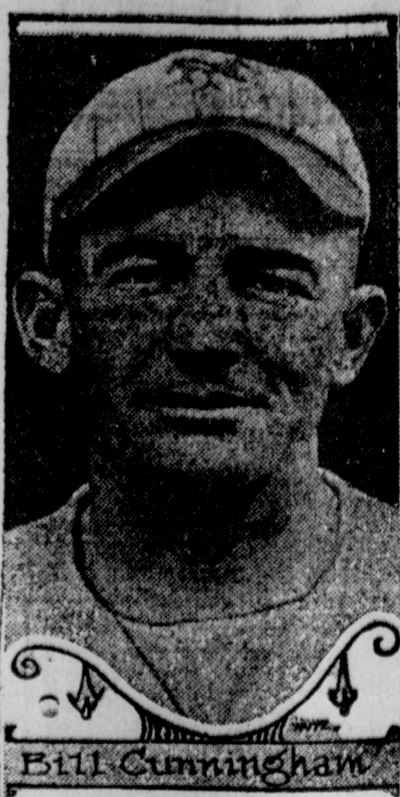

Pottsville, Pa.—"I suffered with female trouble for four or five years and was very irregular. I was not fit to do my work at times and took medicine from a doctor and got no benefit. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers and took it and got all right. I gained twenty pounds or more and am now able to do my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. SALLIE SIEFERT, 313 W. Fourth Street, Pottsville, Pa.

The everyday life of many housewives is a continual struggle with weakness and pain. There is nothing more wearing than the ceaseless round of household duties and they become doubly hard when some female trouble makes every bone and muscle ache, and nerves all on edge.

If you are one of these women do not suffer for four or five years as Mrs. Siefert did, but profit by her experience and be restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

FARM LAND BRINGS $250 PER ACRE

Wilmington, July 30.—A real estate dealer in Wilmington has announced the banner sale of the year. He recently negotiated a transaction in which Mrs. Ira Burton sold her farm of 122 acres to Joseph Pray, of Goshen, for $250 per acre.

In selling for $250 an acre the farm brought a price that has not been equalled except on rare occasions in this part of the state.

RETURNS FOLLOWING TRIP TO RUSSIA

Riga, July 30.—U. S. Senator Joseph France, who went into soviet Russia to study conditions at close range, arrived here today from Moscow. The senator looked tired, and said he was much fatigued from his journey. He said he would not give an interview until he had rested. He admitted, however, that he had talked with Lenin, and said Lenin is anxious to secure American trade.

NEW YORK BOMBED BY AIRCRAFT IN THEORY IS WORD

New York, July 30.—New York and Washington in theory were bombed off the map, following in the wake of Norfolk, Newport News and Richmond. Philadelphia is due for a theoretical bombing Monday.

The fate of the various cities was made known by Brigadier General William Mitchell, assistant chief of the army air service, when he stepped from his plane after leading three squadrons of 17 bombers on an aerial "attack" against New York. A simultaneous attack on Washington by 70 machines had been ordered.

All these air raids are part of a war problem which army aviators are working out after having participated in the recent bombing of former German war craft off the Virginia capes.

Seventy men were assigned to the New York attacking party. Weather conditions were ideal for an air attack. The haze that hung over the land made observation of the planes, flying at 8,000 feet, virtually impossible, and officers declared the planes could have bombed away without fear of successful counter attack from the anti-air craft guns on the ground.

Although curious New Yorkers never knew it, thousands of them were slain—always theoretically—and scarcely a building was left standing in the financial district. The aviators declared they had opened the way for a hostile force to steam into the harbor and seize the city.

SPENDS NIGHT IN WILDS TO TEST HER FAITH IN CREED

Denver, July 30.—Miss E. Folsom, landscape painter and daughter of a prominent Boston, Mass. family is back in her comfortable suite at a hotel today after spending a lonely night on the "top of the world" to test her faith in a new religion.

Miss Folsom, accustomed to a life of luxury, slept in an old deserted house at Corona, Colo., 11,600 feet above sea level, with a door for a bed and only a tattered quilt for a covering. Mountain peaks nearby were white with snow.

Miss Folsom declared her purpose in spending the night in the open was to establish to her own satisfaction that if one has "complete faith" no harm can befall through the agency of either man or creature. She said today that she was entirely satisfied with her experience, despite the fact that she was disturbed throughout the night with wild cries of men in a nearby house, who she believed were trying to frighten her.

12 INTO 7 WON'T GO—

WE ALL learned this in school. We know this is true; yet there are some who think the fuel business of the entire year can be crowded into seven months.

When fall comes the mines cannot possibly produce, nor the railroads haul all at once all the coal that will be needed.

There are cars now—weather conditions are favorable—the coal can be mined, shipped and delivered, if you do the thing that your own best interests demand.

ORDER YOUR COAL NOW!

We believe it to be wise economy, otherwise we would not advise it.

It's DEMAND that sends prices up. If everyone waits until fall and then demands coal all at once, prices will inevitably be higher.

For prompt delivery we quote on coals of the highest quality, unexcelled by any produced in their respective fields, as follows:

ANTHRACITE, EGG	$15.00
ANTHRACITE, CHESTNUT	$15.00
POCAHONTAS, LUMP OR EGG	$10.50
POCAHONTAS, RUN OF MINE	$8.50
CRYSTAL BLOCK WHITE ASH (LUMP OR EGG)	$9.00
WEST VIRGINIA LUMP	$8.50
KENTUCKY BLOCK	$8.35
ISLAND CREEK LUMP	$8.50
OHIO LUMP	$8.00

CHURCH SOCIETY HONORS BRIDE-ELECT

The Young Ladies Missionary Society of the First United Presbyterian Church entertained at the home of Mrs. Charles Ervin and Mrs. Frederick Ervin on West Market Street, Friday evening, for the pleasure of Miss Ruth Tarbox, whose marriage to Mr. Scott Hudson will take place in August.

The Society customarily entertains for each outgoing bride, and the pretty affair, Friday evening, was arranged as a miscellaneous shower for the bride-elect. The Ervin home was tastefully decorated with gladioli and summer flowers, used in vases in profusion and a large clothes hamper gaily decorated with snowballs, contained the gifts of the guests. The honor guest opened the hamper, and was rewarded with many pretty and useful gifts.

Contests and music furnished amusement during the evening and refreshments of sherbet and cake, were served. Thirty-five names were on the guest list.

BATHING PARTY GIVEN FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Honoring Miss Marie Donges, a bride of next month, Mrs. Schuyler McClellan and Mrs. Elbert Babb entertained several young women, Friday evening, with a swimming party.

The affair was in the nature of a "shower" and the guests included only the intimate friends of Miss Donges. The party motored to Anderson's Park, where bathing was enjoyed. Later a picnic luncheon was enjoyed.

BRIDE-ELECTS HONORED WITH "SHOWER" FRIDAY

For the pleasure of three brides elect, Miss Mary Michener, Miss Myrtle Bradstreet, and Miss Cora Saunders, Mrs. George Street, delightfully entertained the members of her Sunday School Class, at her home on East Third Street, Friday evening.

The affair was arranged in the nature of a shower, and the guests spent the evening hemming tea towels which were presented to the honor guests. Music was also featured in the evening's amusement.

The engagement of Miss Michener to Mr. Roy Tribes of this city, was cleverly announced during the evening. A huge yellow basket suspended from the chandelier in the dining room of the Street home, contained a handsome bouquet of black-eyed susans, and falling from the basket to the table were streamers of crepe paper. At the end of each streamer a short history of each of the honor guests' courtship, was found. The engagement of Miss Michener was announced to the guests, in this way, and came as a complete surprise to her many friends.

Miss Michener's marriage will be an event of the latter part of August. Miss Bradstreet's marriage to Mr. Lawrence Luttrell, and Miss Saunders and Mr. Cecil Baxter, will both be events of the coming month.

A color scheme of yellow and white was used in decorations and refreshment course of the affair. Lovely black eyed susans were used in yellow baskets about the rooms. About twenty five girls enjoyed the evening.

CLUB DANCE IS ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

About thirty couples, including several out of town people, enjoyed the dance given at the Xenia Country Club Friday evening. Music for the dancers was furnished by McKay's orchestra of Wilmington, and a delightfully informal evening was enjoyed by the guests.

ENTERTAINS FRIENDS FRIDAY EVENING

Miss Rebecca Harris, of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Arden Sachs, in this city, entertained a company of her friends at the Sachs home on West Church street, Friday evening.

Dancing and games formed the amusement of the evening. A light refreshment course was served later. Those who enjoyed Miss Harris' hospitality were, Misses Virginia Ralls, Irene Parrett, Pauline Sutton, Beatrice Stiff, Ruth Ollinger of Dayton, and Messrs. Robert Owens, Thomas Moore, John Wood, George Confer and Arthur Hyman.

The Long and Marshal real estate agency was associated with the firm of Grieve and Harness in the sale of the Dr. J. G. Carson residence on West Church street Friday to J. D. Steele, Sr., it is announced. The former agency represented the buyer in the deal, and the latter firm represented the seller.

The rally of the Jr. Societies of Xenia Presbytery will be held in the U. P. Church Clifton, Saturday, July 30, at 9:30 standard time. Bring box lunch.

M. N. Douglas the Spring Valley real estate man has sold the W. W. Shurts farm of 250 acres in Warren county to Mr. J. H. Knox of Kentucky. Consideration $31,250.

To make your Sunday dinner complete, ask your grocer for a pound of Spfld Dairy Pro. Co. Butter. Once used always used. 7-30

Rev. J. H. Littell, pastor of the United Presbyterian Church of Oak Park, Ill., is a visitor in the city.

We want 2 boys for East End routes. Must be over 13 years. Wide awake, neat in appearance and mean business. No loafers need apply. Big pay. Call at Gazette right away. 8-3

Miss Anna Curry, of Jamestown, and Miss Dorothy Moore, of Washington C. H., are spending a few days with Miss Curry's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Thomas, of North Detroit street.

GET IT AT DONGES Ad.

The Misses Juanita and Faith Rankin are the guests of friends at Washington C. H., Ohio. They will also visit with friends at Columbus and Springfield before returning to this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sims and family, of Cincinnati, are the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Stiles of Cincinnati Avenue.

Chapeau Decorated With Beads Very Latest From Paris

Strings of beads are attached to a new hat just launched at a Paris race course, with curious effect. The model is of black straw, with upturned ear flaps and a high, stiff crown shaped like a Russian diadem with a jet ornament of a conspicuous make set above the brow. The necklaces of jet are passed around the hat and fall from the ear pieces upon the wearer's breast.

SPRINGFIELD QUOT CLUB TEAM LOSES TO LOCAL TOSSERS

The Xenia Quoit Club team defeated the Reed Manufacturing Company team at Springfield, Friday night, by 66 points the score being 488 points for Xenia to 422 for Springfield.

The tournament was played according to the Springfield club's rules, which require that every player of the visiting team play the same number of quoits with every one of the home players. Each team had eight men in the lineup and points alone instead of games determined the winners.

Shadrach made the highest score for the local team with a score of 76 points. Watkins and Bailey followed with 73 and 69 respectively. Shadrach and Bailey each shut out their opponents without a score. L. A. Taylor acted as captain of the local team which consisted of T. D. Kyle, Watkins, Bailey, J. DeVos, L. Anderson, S. Hyle, William Smith and Shadrach. During the evening the home team served refreshments.

The premier quoit event of the season the Greene County Fair tournament will occupy the boards next week, the games being played Wednesday and Thursday, commencing each day at nine o'clock. A purse of $25 will be played for and the tourney is open to all clubs. Entries must be made in writing before Tuesday noon to M. J. Bell.

COMPANY BIDS TEN MILLIONS FOR SHIPS

Washington, July 30.—The shipping board today received 11 bids for 287 wooden ships in various parts of the country.

The largest bid was from R. A. Thompson and Company, exporters and importers of New York for $10,000,000 for 285 ships.

Their bid was cast aside however, when it was found no certified check accompanied the bid. Search is being made for the check for $4,000,000 which was stated to have been enclosed with the bid. If the check is found the bid will be considered later.

Other bids included five from the Japanese Brokers and Intelligencers of Seattle, Wash., who sought to obtain various allotments of ships' tonnage to ten regardless of condition, now in Lake Union. South Seattle, amounts varying from $500 to $150. Against this was the bid of Forstall and McQuaid Company of Seattle, $25,575 for the entire group of 45 wooden vessels now in Union Lake.

APOPLEXY CAUSE OF DEATH OF LOCAL MAN ON FRIDAY

The body of Harry Everett, who died as the result of a stroke of apoplexy while on a camping trip near New Carlisle, Friday, arrived in this city, Saturday morning, and was taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. Albert Shaw, at 129 Trumbull street.

Funeral services will be held Monday morning, at 10 o'clock fast time, at the Shaw home. Friends may call after four o'clock Sunday evening. The body will be laid to rest in Spring Valley.

Mr. Everett, died suddenly following an attack of apoplexy near New Carlisle, about two o'clock, Friday afternoon. With Mrs. Everett he had left this city on Monday, on a camping trip to Michigan. They planned to make the trip in a covered wagon, sleeping in the wagon at night. After a visit in Eaton, the two started for Michigan. Near New Carlisle Mr. Everett suffered an attack of dizziness, and died before aid could reach him. Two farm boys near the scene, summoned a physician from New Carlisle. When the physician arrived, Everett was dead. Coroner Potter viewed the body and pronounced death instantaneous as the result of apoplexy. Mr. Everett had suffered two slight strokes on Friday morning.

Mr. Everett had until a month ago, resided on the Earl McClellan farm on the Upper Bellbrook pike. He had left this city at that time for a visit with relatives at Hartford, Vt. Before leaving for their camping trip, he and Mrs. Everett had been guests of Mr. Everett's sister, Mrs. William Terlinde, of Dayton.

Mr. Everett was born in Findlay, Ohio, 29 years ago. His marriage to Viola Strohm took place five years ago. There are no children. The young man is survived by his widow, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Everett, who conduct a grocery store on Allison Avenue, and the following brothers and sisters, Mrs. William Terlinde, of Dayton, Mrs. Albert Shaw of this city, and Frank Everett of Hartford, Indiana.

LAY STORM SEWER ON EAST CHURCH STREET AT ONCE

The storm sewer will be laid at once on East Church street between Detroit and Monroe streets, according to the decision of the City Commission.

The work will be done in anticipation of the paving and sewer work planned for next year on Church and other streets included in the new improvement district. By doing the sewer work now, trenches will have a chance to settle before the street is constructed, thereby saving the city the probability of street repairs after the trenches have settled.

According to City Auditor T. H. Zell such results from sewer work of ten cause premature street repairs. Under Market street the trenches have sunk to such a degree that a small sized tunnel is created, and heavy trucks break in the pavement, he said.

MILITARY BURIAL WILL BE TENDERED OVERSEAS SOLDIER

The body of Ralph T. Harness, Xenia soldier, who died of pneumonia in France following the signing of the armistice, arrived in this city from New York Saturday, and was taken in charge by Undertaker Ralph Neeld.

The body will remain at the funeral parlors until Monday when funeral services will be held at the First Baptist Church at two o'clock standard time, or three o'clock daylight saving time. Because the Rev. Albert Read is out of the city, another minister will conduct the services.

The funeral will be military in nature, uniformed men of the Food Post, of the American Legion, here, and Thomas Post from Jamestown, taking part in the service and forming a military cortege for the funeral procession. Burial will be made in the Jamestown Cemetery.

SENTENCE PASSED ON TWO ARRESTED

Albert Honaker, 13, colored, son of Jerry Honaker, was made a ward of Juvenile Court by Judge J. Carl Marshall Saturday morning on a charge of delinquency.

Honaker was arrested by Lieutenant Charles Mackrodt and Detective Cliff Latimer of the Pennsylvania railroad police force and charged with stealing coal from the railroad. He was permitted to return home by Judge Marshall but will have to report regularly to the court.

Shirley Thomas, colored, arrested at the same time as Honaker, was fined $10 and costs by Magistrate J. E. Jones on a similar charge.

INFANT DIES AT HOME OF PARENTS

Richard, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Fair of South Monroe Street, passed away at the home of Mrs. Fair's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Honaker, late Friday night. The child was two months of age. Funeral services were held at the Honaker home at two o'clock Saturday afternoon and burial was made at Woodland.

Californian May - Meet Mlle. Lenglen.

Miss Mary Browne, the sensational California tennis player, is being heralded as the most likely opponent for Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, woman's net champion of the world, when the latter arrives in this country to take part in our championship events. Special matches are being arranged, and it is likely that Miss Browne will be her opponent.

PLENTY OF WATER AVAILABLE AT THE OLD PLANT HERE

That slight improvements at the old Cincinnati avenue water station will furnish plenty of water for the proposed emergency water station that the city is thinking of establishing there, is the text of the report submitted by Charles M. Kelso former Xenia and head of the Charles M. Kelso Engineering Company of Dayton, employed by the city.

Mr. Kelso tested the wells at the Cincinnati avenue station and also the service connections. His findings show that there is enough water at the station to guarantee 1,000 gallons a minute but that the pumps would have to be lowered to reach the water level. After lowering the top about eight feet and extending the connections lower, the plant can locate plenty of water, according to the report.

Eight wells at the Cincinnati avenue station were tested by the engineer, five of them showing enough water to take care of the proposed plant, while the three others can be used if necessary to furnish more water. Mr. Kelso submitted blue prints of a proposed station with room for two pumps, although it is contemplated to install but one now and drawings showing the connections necessary in fitting the plant for use.

MAN SENTENCED TO WORK HOUSE GIVEN RELEASE

Steve Mats, sent to the Dayton work house from the court of Magistrate J. E. Jones here several weeks ago on a charge of violation of the Crabbe act, was released from the institution, Friday by Probate Judge Harry N. Routzahn, in Dayton, on habeas corpus proceedings.

Mats is one of the men arrested on the farm of Sheriff L. Funderburg for operating a still, and he has served several months of his sentence. His companions in crime escaped from the work house several weeks ago and have not been discovered. Prosecuting Attorney J. Kenneth Williamson said he had not been notified that the habeas corpus hearing was to be held. Judge Routzahn held that the sentencing court had no jurisdiction, and it is thought was probably basing his decision on the former law, which has since been changed, giving the squire's court jurisdiction.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD ON FRIDAY

The Methodist Episcopal church at New Burlington, was filled by the friends and relatives of Justus Reeves, at the funeral services held Friday afternoon at two o'clock.

The services were in charge of Rev. B. E. Wright, pastor of the M. E. Church who was assisted by Rev. Jesse Hawkins, pastor of the New Burlington Friends Church. A large number of floral tributes bore tribute of the esteem of relatives and friends. Interment was made at the New Burlington cemetery. Pallbearers were Raymond Reeves, Edgar Reeves, Marion Reeves, Stanley Stevens, Samuel Reeves and George Fletcher.

FORMER ACROBAT RETURNS TO WORK IN INITIAL OFFER

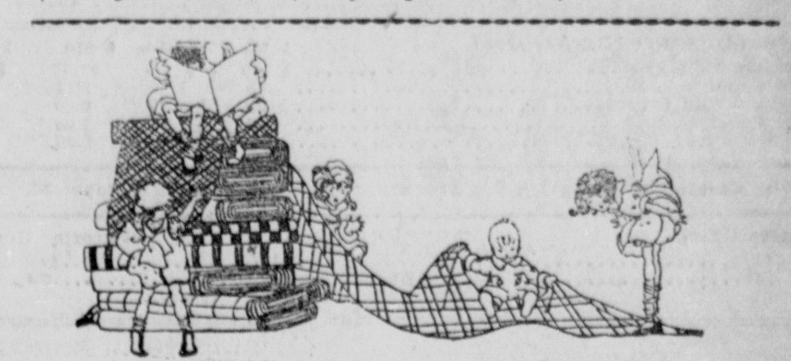

Louis Wooley, former well-known acrobat, who was for some time on big time with his novelty bar acts, will again break into the show business in Jamestown August 9 and 11.

In connection with Homer Glass of Jamestown, he will furnish a vaudeville novelty act between the pictures at the Jamestown Opera House. The team has been practicing for some time and this is its first performance. Mr. Wooley appeared on the stage and with circuses for many years and ranked as one of the best acrobats in the country at one time.

ONE FIFTH OF WORLD'S GOLD SUPPLY IN ONE NEW YORK BUILDING

The building is the United States Assay Office, and there are approximately 250 tons of pure gold piled in bars and ranged in sacks of coin in the vaults. The gold in this one Federal building is about one-fifth of the world's supply of the precious metal and is by far the greatest amount of gold ever gathered in one place or one city. The flood of yellow metal that has gushed into the building since the war has come from every corner of the earth and every week this hoard of gold is increased by many millions. Almost every transatlantic liner brings more of it, and no one knows when the flood will recede. All foreign coins received are melted into bars, and these bars are numbered, tagged and tabulated and ready for shipment should the call come. It is estimated that the United States has one-fourth of all the gold in the world, there being about a half billion in the Denver and San Francisco mints, the Treasury and the various banks of the country.

TRACTION MEN REDUCED.

New York, July 24.—A reduction of approximately 10 per cent in wages for all employees of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company was announced today by the receiver, Lindsey M. Garrison. The cut, he said, has been accepted by the employees. This reduction coming in conjunction with the vote of the Interborough's employees to accept a 10 per cent cut means that within a short time most of the transportation workers of greater New York will be receiving reduced wages.

ELAM IS SWORN IN AS CLERK OF COURTS

Harvey Elam, new clerk of courts and retiring clerk of Xenia Township, took his oath of office before Probate Judge J. Carl Marshall, Friday.

The new clerk takes his office in the Court House Monday morning, Saturday being the last day in office for the present Clerk, C. S. Johnson and his Deputy, Miss Charlie Santmyer.

Friends in the Court House paid their respects to the retiring Clerk and his Deputy Saturday. Their last official day in duty. Although serving until midnight Sunday night, the last day being Sunday, their terms officially close Saturday. Both were at work preparing the office to be turned over to their successors, Saturday.

Earl Short appointed Deputy by the new clerk, has not yet taken his oath of office, but will do so the first thing Monday morning, when the new occupants of the Clerk's office will be welcomed into the Court House.

The Clerk's office is the only office in the Court House to change officials at this time.

SOMEWHERE AROUND THE CORNER.

By MARGARET E. SANGSTER.

I'm sitting here at my desk wondering what I'll write about. For it's a very warm day—so warm that my pen feels sticky between my fingers—and I'm just a bit tired from walking on hard pavements under the glare of the summer sun. I'm sitting here—quite alone—and it's ever so hard to think of the words that I want to write.

From somewhere around the corner, comes the music of a hand organ—a hurdy-gurdy. It's grinding out a tune, a rather light little tune that isn't too much out of key to be suggestive of falling water, and the wind in the tree-tops, and softly floating clouds. I can't see the man who is playing the hurdy-gurdy, but my imagination paints him as a thin, stooped figure with a quick, wistful smile and a lean, dark face. I wonder if the music that he makes—music that is tuneless, though crude—is helping him.

Perhaps the hurdy-gurdy man thinks' tired thoughts, like these. And perhaps he doesn't think anything at all; perhaps he just grinds away, in a detached, vacant manner. But I like to think that there is something absorbing—something interesting—about every sort of work. And I hope that the hurdy-gurdy man gets his share of interest—and even fun—out of his hand organ.

Fun? But, of course. You who have lived in cities have seen the little children come out of doorways and alleys and side-streets to frolic to the music that the hurdy-gurdy man makes. They come with bare legs dancing, and whispy skirts a-flutter—they come eagerly, as moths dart to the candle flame! Only the candle flame is very apt to hurt the moths and I don't think that music—even when it's a bit out of tune—can harm little children.

The song has stopped now. And, though I wait ever so patiently, no new song is starting. The organ man has left his place, somewhere around the corner—he and his music have gone abruptly out of my life. I hope he didn't go away because somebody told him that his music was a trifle out of tune—I hope that he didn't go away because no one smiled at him, or gave him a coin. I hope he went away because he wanted to give his songs to as many folk as possible!

I started to write without an idea—I even admitted the fact to you all! I was warm and a bit tired. And then, quite unseen, a hurdy-gurdy man began to play—and, by playing, taught me a lesson. This is the lesson that he taught me:

It doesn't matter how tired we are or how warm, or how really empty our minds may be. It doesn't matter whether we're country people or city folk. It doesn't matter whether we're ultra-sophisticated, or whether we're all eager with life and the sheer romance of living. Nothing matters in this lesson that the hurdy-gurdy man taught me, except just this—THAT THERE'S USUALLY A BIT OF INSPIRATION AND GOOD CHEER SOMEWHERE AROUND THE CORNER. All we've got to do is to look for it—and sometimes all we have to do is to listen to it, as I did! And sometimes—most marvelous fact of all—it will come to us, quite of its own volition from out of an unexpected hiding-place!

$500,000 SOUGHT BY BIG SHEEP FIRM.

The largest individual sheep outfit in the United States has been compelled by conditions affecting the wool and mutton markets of the world to sell $500,000 in 8 per cent first mortgage bonds which have just been offered in the West.

The Wood Live Stock Co., owning upward of 36,697 acres of land in Idaho and Montana, and headed by Frank J. Hagenbarth, president of the National Wool Growers' Association, during the war chairman of the Livestock Section of the Hoover Food Administration, has for the first time in its history come into the open market for money.

Despite its reputation as the most progressive concern in the country in its range and marketing methods, and the fact that its animals command a premium in the Eastern markets, the Wood company finds itself with unsold wool, and inventory of $1,571,948.10 in livestock (at market or lower) and other assets which have tied up such a considerable amount of working capital that the financing move was made necessary.

The issue of the Wood bonds is the first instance of major public financing by livestock interests to be undertaken in the inter-mountain States. The bonds issue was arranged through the Bank of Italy of San Francisco. The nature of the issue presents some unusual characteristics in present-day financing.

Health Talks

By John B. Huber, A.M.M.D.

Relax.
Of course Drummond, whom I quoted yesterday, was writing about the spiritual aspect of life. But in its physical aspect the difficulty is about the same. Most people do not know how to rest.

Dr. Mary Sutton Macy has had considerable service—her patients all women—in a metropolitan neurological clinic. She has found that if those patients are to be cured they have first got to be rested, mentally and physically in order that the physiological balance be restored. Medicines might meanwhile relieve symptoms, but drugs are not expected in most cases to effect the cure, which can come about only through giving Nature a chance to re-create a healthy organism.

Experience taught Dr. Macy that merely to send those patients home with orders to rest for a week, and then return for treatment, would not do they had to be trained in the science and art of resting. She understood to instruct personally, and with actual demonstration those nervous women. Far best of all, she taught the most of them how to get well without drugs—not all, because in some cases of organic disease medication is "indicated."

The patient had to report three times a week; during every visit she was directed how to follow this instruction at home daily and frequently for from ten-minute to half-hour stretches. Each woman's progress was noted from visit to visit, and the instructions given her were amplified and continued until she knew how to relax, completely and immediately from any position. She was made to understand that her ability thus to relax enabled her to acquire in a few minutes an amount of rest equivalent to that ordinarily attained—or unattained—in several hours' "lying down," and that, once having become adept, a night's sleep in a relaxed manner can give a remarkable amount of restorative vitality.

MAYBE WE'D BETTER CUT OFF HIS OF SOMETHING SO HE CAN RUN BETTER.

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

The court house building commission, yesterday, let the contract for equipping the heating station. Mr. John North was the successful bidder, and was awarded the work at $2,381.

Attorney R. L. Gowdy and wife took their departure, today, for Buffalo, where they will visit the exposition.

Miss Helen Jones is spending a week rusticiating in the country, at the home of Joseph Jackson, where she is the guest of Miss Mary Jackson.

The announcement that the Xenia and Springfield branch of the Little Miami Railroad was to be equipped with electricity and operated by that power, has caused a good deal of comment about the city, and there is a good deal of speculation concerning the proposed step.

Mr. John Gallagher, the Pan Handle baggage master, is taking a vacation from his duties and is spending the time with his family in this city.

Milo Snodgrass and daughter, Omilo, left yesterday for Sulphur Lake Springs, for a two weeks' outing for the benefit of Mr. Snodgrass' health.

AN EDITORIAL ON BUYING

Out in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, there is a woman's specialty shop conducted by Mary Sachs. During the year of 1919 this shop did a business of $207,000.00 at a total expense of 1435 per cent for doing business.

During this same period a national magazine found that the following groups of stores had a selling expense as follows:

Dry goods stores	23.05%
Groceries	17.91%
Variety stores	17.76%
Hardware stores	20.41%
Clothing stores	23.27%
Drug stores	24.65%
Furniture stores	26.11%
Jewelry stores	26.81%
Shoe stores	23.22%
Women's specialty shop	29.40%

A paragraph taken from one of her advertisements, in which she showed the above figures, tells just how her low selling expense was accomplished, but it does not emphasize the fact that her advertising, which cost a trifle less than 3 per cent for the year was in her judgment entirely responsible for the unusual success of this new business. Here is what she said:

"What holds my cost down to this record-breaking level? Volume—that's the answer. I do a relatively immense volume in a small space. My salespeople sell relatively large amounts during a day's business. It follows, logically, that I can afford to sell my goods at very low prices and still make a fair profit. And that is exactly what I do. It works in a circle. The lower my prices—the greater my volume—the lower my costs."

This store has been a constant advertiser since the day it was opened, September 3rd, 1919. There are two newspapers in Harrisburg. These newspapers carry the advertising of this store, week in and week out, rain or shine, good business or poor business. These advertisements seldom carry prices or illustrations. They are written like short editorials, two things always being emphasized: first, a personal service on the part of salespeople who have been trained by the proprietor, and second the finest merchandise that can be bought at lower than can be obtained in the average store.

During 1920 this store did a business of $207,000.00, and the selling expense remained practically the same. Miss Sachs in public statements and in articles which she has signed for various magazines invariably emphasizes the value and pulling power of advertisements that are run continuously regardless of conditions. Not only are the women of Harrisburg and adjoining towns given high quality merchandise at less, but in addition, they have an opportunity of becoming acquainted with various phases of the store service through the advertisements that appear each week of the year.

In August and February a sale is held for one week. Everything that is old is sold regardless of the price it brings. Outside of these two periods special sales are never held because the store prides itself on always having fresh merchandise of any kind and the number of men who now accompany their wives and daughters when they shop in this store averages about two times as many as visit the average store selling to women only.

The one quick and positive way of reducing the cost of merchandise to the consumer is to tell the story of merchandise, store service and value, through the printed word. At least, that is the opinion of Mrs. Sachs, who has made a phenomenal success in the two and one half short years she has been in business for herself.

The one quick and positive way for readers to secure the full advantage of the "reduction in cost" of merchandise is to read advertising closely and constantly.

BRITISH QUARREL NOT SIGNIFICANT

London, July 30.—All the morning papers devoted much space to the controversy between the Lloyd George administration and Lord Northcliffe. Long cablegrams were printed from Washington where Lord Northcliffe is now visiting. The Daily Herald, organ of the labor party refused to attach any importance to the quarrel.

"It is the most amusing piece of low comedy that British politics has produced for a long time," said the Daily Herald. "Two of our greatest demagogues have turned back-chat comedians with the whole broad Atlantic as their stage. Northcliffe denies what he said. What if he did or what if he did not, it does not make any difference, either way."

WONDERING WHY.

Men send their autos roaring along the midnight street, disturbing people snoring, destroying slumbers sweet; with cutouts madly coughing, and pistons whanging loud, we hear them in the offing the foolish, fathead crowd. There is no sense, beshrew it, in racketing along; I wonder why they do it, when they must know it's wrong. Speed fiends, in all the papers, read tales of death and wrecks; because of speed fiend capers, men carry broken necks and to the boneyard, daily dead men in hearses go, because the speed fiends gayly refuse to travel slow. Cops run them down and pinch them, the while some victim groans, and Justice, which should cinch them just fine, them seven bones. Such leniency's a blunder—they pay without a tear, then scorch again like thunder and kill an auctioneer. 'Tis wicked to pursue it, this vicious course and vain; I wonder why they do it—why not be safe and sane? I drive my fiery auto, a thing of brutal power, by fen and weir and grotto, at fifteen miles an hour. And though for years I've driven my bus along the pave, I've sent no guy unshriven to fill an early grave. I've caused no sore contusion with fender or with hood—but, haply, in conclusion, I'd better knock on wood.

OLD FACES MADE YOUNG

I remember with amusement a certain party I went to where someone described at great length the process by which a well-known woman had tucked taken in her face a pull back the slack muscles and eliminate the wrinkles.

This is an expensive but not infrequent method employed by the wealthy and desperately middle aged. I can't say that the treatment is ever highly successful considering that the ladies in question must always wear their hair far over the face to hide the scars and that the pulling up of the skin takes all expression from the face. Certainly this does not seem like a natural way of keeping one's youth.

Why not exercise those flabby muscles so they will have strength enough to keep their shape? It is well known that exercising any muscle will strengthen it. It is also known that the best instrument for this sort of massage is the dry palm of the hand.

One man who, at the age of 75, scarcely looks 40, has kept his face firm by massage alone. He says that the massage must not be too vigorous, and that at first the rubbing removes the fatty tissue underlying every skin, and that the face seems rather more haggard than usual and new lines appear. But after a few weeks that disappear again, the new wrinkles disappear and the old ones gradually began to go.

Each cheek is supported by four muscles which lie toward the eye.

When these weaken the cheek falls and wrinkles. Massaging or rubbing these muscles with the palms of the hand will strengthen them. Ten or 15 movements is enough to begin with, but should be increased when the skin is used to massage.

Z. K. L.—Join a gymnasium and take the exercises that will give you more height. A correct way of standing adds much, too.

Black Hair.—If you have brown hair, it is the only color that will be becoming to you. You can dye it black if you care to, but you will not look right as Nature makes no mistakes in her combinations of color.

Anxious.—Any mixture that is strong enough to bleach out freckles entirely, will also injure the skin, if used to any extent.

Anxious.—Cocoa butter is very good for fattening any part of the body, but it should not be used on the face or neck, as it may induce a growth of hair.

What if your nose and mouth are not as pretty as you wish them? Your hair, skin, eyes and figure must all be good enough to counteract the effect of the other two features, and full lips are not usually noticed. You are mistaken about men not caring for a girl with a pug nose, not one in a thousand know anything about it. If a man likes a girl and her ways, she is always beautiful to him. BIDS ON SCHOOL WORK TABULATED GIVE ESTIMATES

The complete tabulation of bids for all work on both the Central High School and the East High School buildings, is announced by John Beacham, business manager of the public schools.

The tabulation was made by the Architects Pretzinger and Mussellman, and shows the competition for the work, which was awarded to the Industrial Building Company of Dayton for both buildings. On the East High School work the bid of the Dayton company was $112,800 and that of the Willing Bros. Construction Company, the nearest competitor was $113,405.

On the Central High School building, the bid, not including the marble, of the Industrial Building Company was $281,600 and that of the Kilpatrick Dawson Company was $274,000. The difference in the bids on the marble work the contract for the Dayton concern, as its separate bid for the marble work was $10,000, while the bid of the Kilpatrick Dawson Company was $18,000, leaving the bid of the Dayton concern just $400 under the bid of the competing company.

The bids on plumbing, heating and ventilating, temperature regulating, electric wiring, sheet metal and roofing, plastering and vacuum cleaning, were separate, and awards of the contracts have not been made on this branch of the work as it will be sometime before any of such work will be necessary. The contract to the Industrial Building Company of Dayton however, includes some of this work which was bid separately by other concerns. The contract includes excavation, concrete, cut stone, brick work, plastering, structural steel and iron work, ornamental iron, carpenter work, sheet metal work, roofing, painting, blackboards, electric wiring and vacuum cleaning, including the alternate substituting wood and giling strips and under floor for Nalacode and marble. Including the marble bid, the work awarded to the Dayton concern on the Central building includes an expenditure of $291,600.

The bids tabulated on the East High building are as follows:

Industrial Building Company, $112,800; Willing Bros. Construction Company, $113,405; E. L. Archibald Company, $125,780; Jas. I. NO CIRCUIT RACING
Columbus, O., July 30.—The Grand Circuit race card scheduled for yesterday was called off on account of a heavy track. If weather and track permits a double program will be raced off today, racing commencing at noon. Many of the stables have already been shipped to Toledo, where the next Grand Circuit meeting opens on Monday.

The Markets

Stocks

Gradual improvement in securities is indicated by the market's action in several recent sessions. Call money continues quoting at very moderate rates, and the growth of bank reserves and decline in the Federal Reserve banks' note circulation is a harbinger of definite easing tendencies in the general money market. The steel industry seems at last to have rounded ed the turn and operations here and these show an increase. Major economic movements reach their limit slowly, and it is for this reason that business is making so little concrete progress when fundamentals seem to favor an advance. The bull campaign which followed the war continued after many warnings of approaching trouble. In like manner reactionary tendencies persist usually after the tide has set the other way.

Grain

Country shipments of new grain have been heavy, causing at least one road to announce that it had cars enough to care for less than half of its requirements—a remainder of more than 100,000 bushels of wheat and more than 100,000 bushels of corn. The heavy movement toward the east has been a relief to the grain market, but it has not been enough to prevent a decline in prices. The trade is increasingly confident of good export business this coming season. The heavy movement toward the east has been a relief to the grain market, but it has not been enough to prevent a decline in prices. The trade is increasingly confident of good export business this coming season.

Livestock

(Chicago Market)

Prolonged liquidation of all livestock suggests an impending era of comparative shortage and a gradual ascent of values, long sought by growers. Supply may not prove adequate to meet demand as a result of curtailment in the industry and the sacrifice of breeding stock. Hides are moving well and reflect activity in the shoe industry. The hog market should remain healthy unless receipts become excessive. Occasional setbacks are to be expected. Corned cattle are below a parity with shipping grades of hogs—an unprecedented condition and one that will be rectified. Cattle should advance. The stock cattle market has improved some what. Stocks of frozen beef and mutton are much below a year ago as is the stock of dry salt pork.

Cotton

Deterioration during July has been much less than the ten-year average of 3.4 per cent. Sometimes it is very marked, one year exceeding 21 per cent. The condition showing created bearish sentiment, but those operating on the market's constructive side did not lose sight of the fact that condition for this time of year is still much below average and that a short crop is practically assured. The coming year may easily witness a substantial accession of demand over the year past. Steps are being taken to facilitate the exportation of cotton. Textile trade revival the world over is slow.

Wool

Eastern markets report fair buying of wool. The manufacturers are chiefly interested in the finer grades. The woolen textile situation has a distinct element of strength. Business in the West is moderate, while the bright wool states are quiet. Carpet plants are pushing operations and need a quantity of low grade of wool.

Metals

Sentiment has improved in the iron and steel trade. Inquiries for steel are more numerous than recently. Stocks are being depleted and the day of revival draws nearer. Consumers are still loath to place their orders until compelled to do so.

Agriculture

Southern and Western districts will gain an advantage in cheaper interest rates as a result of the recent cut in rediscount rates at several of the Federal Reserve banks. In the opinion of more than one eastern financial writer, their credit situation is less favorable than that of other sections and they must draw upon the more liquid banking districts.

Apostles of deflation and seven per cent interest accuse the Federal Reserve board of yielding to political pressure in initiating movement toward lower rates. The board assuredly is not deaf to the farmer's appeal, but claims that the board has forfeited the independence so essential to its highest usefulness are false. The farmer's need of credit at lower interest rates is patent to the unprejudiced observer. The Federal Reserve Board, when starting deflation one year and half ago or more, did not intend making the farmer the traditional "goat." John Skelton Williams to the contrary notwithstanding. The farmer became the "goat" due to an inherent weakness of long standing in the economic system.

The American Farm Bureau Federation's memorial requesting a readjustment of freight rates is a convincing document. It not merely asks for substantial reduction in rates, harmonizing with the general movement of prices toward progressively lower levels but it attacks the 5-1-2 per cent net income provision of the Transportation act, holding that "one great industry cannot be singled out and made the equivalent of a permanent government guarantee, when its prosperity is so closely interwoven with all the other activities of the country."

No such outspoken and direct attack has been made upon this clause of the Transportation act by any organization of appreciable size and influence. The Federation does not mince words, and apparently its executives had considered the memorial thoughtfully before presenting it to the public.

CEDARVILLE

Prof. Cameron Ross, who teaches in Iowa, is at home visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ross. Prof. Ross has been attending summer school at the University of Iowa, which is located at Iowa City.

Mr. Will Northup of Coshocton was the guest of his brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hiff, Thursday night.

The Misses Helen and Eloise Hiff went to Spring Valley Thursday night to visit their cousin, Mrs. Roscoe McCormick.

Mrs. Jane Chesnut and daughter, Miss Mary were guests of Mrs. Anna Morton and Miss Grace Morton of Xenia, Friday.

Rev. J. P. White, Wilbur White, Grey McCampbell, Willard Kyle and Philip Kyle and Miss Helen Oglesbee are attending the Young Peoples convention which is being held in Cleveland this week.

The parents, who had children that attended the Daily Vacation Bible school which was held in the R. P. Church, during the past weeks, owe a great deal to those who had it in charge. The training the children received was of the very highest character—singing, drills, Bible stories and the handwork, was all that could be desired. The girls were taught to sew by Mrs. Melvin McMillan and the articles made are very nice.

The Ladies Bible Class of the M. E. Church enjoyed a picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stucky, Thursday evening.

Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs

By Mrs. George Elliott McCormick.

In one or two cities in Ohio Volunteer Service Bureaus have been established by club members with a view to enlisting volunteers who are willing to help local service groups and become thoroughly familiar with the real needs of their communities and study the best methods for meeting these needs. It is a wide field and the work means much to any community. For that reason officers of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs are backing it.

In volunteer community service work the plan is to secure desk room in the downtown district, where girls and women seeking employment may come for help. A volunteer worker can accomplish much for children by working with managers of photoplay theaters for pictures for children. Club women having tickets for a good show and unable to attend are asked to turn them into the volunteer service desk and in that way some worthy people get the benefit of them. A lot of pleasure may thus be given to others who long for good entertainment and are denied it.

There are so many fine things that can be accomplished by a Volunteer Community Service Bureau that it is urged federations and clubs bring the matter of establishing such an arm of progressive club work before members for consideration.

Making Convention Reservations. Club women planning to attend the state convention in Cincinnati the week of October 24 are asked to make their hotel reservations as early as possible. "We are resting on our oars now till September 1," Mrs. Elmer G. Laurence, No. 856 Locust street, Cincinnati, secretary of the convention, announces. But that does not mean club women throughout the state should not get busy and make their hotel reservations now.

The Cincinnati convention secretary plans to keep a carbon copy of all hotel correspondence, it is announced, so that misunderstandings or errors may be speedily ironed out. Club women desirous of getting in touch with the program builder should address Mrs. Charles C. Pavey, No. 41 Wilson Avenue, Columbus.

New York City.

My dear Mr. Rachmaninoff:

Under a contract between yourself and Thomas A. Edison, Inc., dated the 24th of April, 1919, it is provided, in effect, that the royalties payable to you on various selections, which you have recorded for us, shall continue, only so long as you do not make phonographic recordings of such selections for anyone else.

I shall be very glad to give you permission to record these selections for others, without the loss of royalties under the aforesaid agreement. This will give you the opportunity to record your "Prelude in C Sharp Minor" and other important works, which you have already recorded for us.

Yours very truly,

Thomas A. Edison

READ Mr. Edison's letter to Rachmaninoff, the famous Russian pianist. In reality, it is an invitation to talking-machine manufacturers to record Rachmaninoff in the selections that he has recorded for the New Edison.

We fear that they will not dare this deadly parallel,—but, since Rachmaninoff has recorded other selections for talking-machines, you can draw your own parallels. Simply come here and

Hear Rachmaninoff on the NEW EDISON

You will hear Rachmaninoff exactly as he plays. Then listen to him as he sounds on a talking-machine.

The New Edison is so different from all talking-machines that Mr. Edison has offered 25 cash prizes, totaling $10,000, for phrases that will best distinguish the New Edison from talking-machines. Ask for folder, giving full particulars.

If you do not own a New Edison, fill out and mail, or bring, the coupon and we will loan you an instrument on three days free trial. Having a New Edison will give you ideas for phrases to submit in the contest. Act quickly—contest closes September 2nd.

DINNER STORIES

Mrs. Flatbush—Who is that man with the red nose you just bowed to?

Mr. Flatbush—Oh, he's a man I met out west.
"He is certainly not a Prohibitionist, is he?"
"Why, I never had occasion to ask him, dear."
"But how did you happen to meet him?"
"Well, we were traveling out of Milwaukee on the same train one night. He had a bottle, and I discovered that I had a corkscrew."

A gentleman who acts as chauffeur of one of the elevators in the Widener building in Philadelphia was talking.
"The judge certainly did soak him," he said. "He sentenced him to three years and ten days. Now I understand the three years all right, all right, but what was the ten days for, I'd like to know?"
"That was the war tax," said a quiet citizen who got aboard at the chamber of commerce floor.

Just in time for the Postman's last call, two friends met at the mail box. By the light of the street lamp Jones saw that Binks was looking rather the worse for wear.
His nose was skinned, while a faint tinge of purple gave promise of a fine black eye in a few hours.
"You've been having a rough time," he exclaimed. "What's happened?"

"Nothing," replied Binks casually. "My wife's been pelting me with flowers. That's all."
"Flowers? But what sort of flowers were they to mark you like that?"
"Just the ordinary kind, only she forgot to remove them from the nuts first."

Benny Moore, negro boxer, the other night in Oakland, Cal., stopped an avalanche of gloves before a wicked blow flattened him.

"Get up, or no money," warned the referee.
"Don't need money that bad," returned Benny from the mat.

Aunt Elvira rushed into the house, hysterical.
"I've lost my hearing," she shouted.

"You have?" her frightened sister shouted back. "How do you know?"
"See that man out there playing that hand-organ? Well I can't hear a single note," and Aunt Elvira wept afresh.

"That's a moving picture photographer at work," snapped her sister.

The Mason and Dixon checkers were doing a rushing business in the game around the shell hole during a lull in the fight. Most of the remains of the company pay was gathered in the steel Stetson, which was doing duty as the First National bank, and the big boy from New Orleans who held the bones was conscripting all the oratory in his vocabulary for the occasion.
"Come seben, come seben," he chortled. "We want action. Action's what we want."

Then a belated 77 exploded nearby, cutting off his flow of speech just as the cubes left his hand. For a moment after the echoes died away there was a dead silence, then an agitated voice arose:
"Man, oh, man, be careful how you assemble yo' numbahs, or dis crap game am gwine to be broke

COUNTY RECEIVES $14,821.88, SHARE OF LICENSE FEES

The sum of $14,821.88 has been turned back to Greene County so far this year, as this county's share of the money collected by the state for the sale of licenses of motor vehicles.

So says County Auditor R. O. Wead, compiling his figures from money checked back to this county, after being paid for the licensing of pleasure cars, trucks, motorcycles, side cars and trailers including all forms of motor vehicles.

Since the county gets half of the money it takes in, the other half going to the state, the indications are that so far, Greene County has turned over to the state $29,643.76. So far this year $38,560.26 has been taken in, in Champagne county giving that county a total of $19,280.26 paid in so far in 3,382 vehicles.

This county last year received $17,715.18 as the county's share of money taken in this county for motor vehicle licensing and the licenses showed there were 3,687 cars in the county. By the end of this year the amount is expected to equal or surpass last year's figures.

Village and township authorities in the county are complaining that they are losing considerable money this year, through failure of motorists to state exactly which village or township they live in, in buying a license. In that case, since no equitable subdivision of the funds can be made, the surplus goes to the county road fund, according to the County Auditor.

COURT NEWS

HUSBAND BENEFITS UNDER WILL

The will of Mary S. Leaming was admitted to probate by Judge J. Carl Marshall, yesterday. The will leaves to the testator's husband, Joseph S. Leaming, her undivided half interest in an 81-acre farm in Wayne township, Warren county, to be his during his natural life and at his death to be divided between her two sons, R. P. Leaming and Howard J. Leaming. The beneficiary is given authority to sell property and reinvest if such a move is thought best.

SAYS DOG BITES INJURIOUS

Claiming that he suffered damages as the result of being bitten by a dog owned by the defendant, Clarence Snyder has brought suit against Freeman E. Johnson, in Common Pleas Court, asking a judgment in the sum of $546.80. The plaintiff claims he was attending a ball game in Beavercreek township near Zimmerman, July 4, when the dog owned by the defendant, without provocation, attacked and wounded him on the left shin, causing painful lacerations that resulted in a shock to his nervous system. He said he lost 12 days work, sustaining a loss of $37.50, besides a physician's bill of $3. He asks for judgment in the amount named and that the Court order the dog be killed. J. Kenneth Williamson is attorney for the plaintiff.

ASKS COURT TO COLLECT RENT

Claiming the amount due on account for farm rent and other causes, Ada Moss has filed an action with Clerk of Courts C. S. Johnson, against Caleb Nooks. The petition asks for a judgment in full with interest from July 29, 1921. C. W. Whitmer is attorney for the plaintiff.

PEACH DISHES FOR THE DINNER TABLE

It is time for good housekeepers to get their peach recipes together, and offer the following to add to their collection:

Peach Salad: Remove the skin from ripe peaches by putting the fruit in a caesecum bag and lowering it into boiling water for about two minutes, then taking it out and plunging the bag into cold water for a second; the skins can then be removed easily with the fingers. Halve the peaches and place them round-side-down on tender lettuce leaves; fill the cavity in each half peach with cream cheese and pour cream salad dressing over all. Serve very cold.

Peach Shortcake: Mix together 4 cups of bread flour, 1 teaspoon salt and 2 teaspoons baking powder; sift these dry ingredients into a bowl and rub into them with the fingertips, 6 tablespoons of butter. Now beat two eggs light without separating them and add to them 3-4 of

OPEN EXHIBITION IN WINDY CITY

Chicago, July 30.—The Pageant of Progress, the greatest exhibition undertaken in Chicago since the world's fair more than 25 years ago was formally opened today. It will be open until August 14 and thousands of visitors from all parts of the country are expected to attend.

Designed chiefly as a commercial exhibit, the Pageant of Progress has assembled an attractive display along the entire length of the municipal pier which will house the exposition. The pageant marks an effort by Chicago business men to counteract existing reaction in commerce and industry.

Throughout the duration of the exposition various entertainment features will be staged.

MILITARY HONORS PAID

Salem, July 30.—Full military honors were paid to the memory of Charles H. Carey, first Salem youth to lose his life in the world war, when his remains were interred in the cemetery here. Carey enlisted at 19 years of age, and was the first young man in town to respond when the United States entered war. He was killed in Belleau Woods June 13, 1918.

The Revolt of Vera Sanderson

By JANE PHELPS.

Keith was delightfully hospitable all the week Sallie was with us. There was nothing left undone that he could do for her pleasure. I thought he was trying perhaps to make up for the perfectly miserable time she had when she visited us before. Yet he kept his engagement with Margaret faithfully through the week, and the second Sunday he left us to spend the day with her. We were anything but lonely though.

Because of Sallie, I had asked Jim and Emma to dine with me, and of course, Jack Underwood. Erma said Tom Benedict had said he was going to call, and on the spur of the moment I invited him also. Of course I told Keith.

"It's too bad you can't be with us, dear. I am going to have an awfully nice dinner, and then we are going to have some music."

He made no reply, but when he bade me goodbye on Sunday before going over to Margaret's I imagined he looked a bit regretful; as if he would have preferred to remain at home.

We had a perfectly lovely time. I told him all about it while he prepared for bed.

"I do wish it had been possible for you to have been with us," I remarked as if I knew it were impossible, so would not find fault. I was trying desperately to be tactful.

Sallie had gone. I was once more alone. The week she left Keith spent three evenings with Margaret.

What should I do?

I was positive it was time to assert myself if I were to be happy, and if I were not to allow Margaret to get her old ascendancy over him.

"You have left me for Margaret three evenings this week instead of one, I said to him.

"Last week when Sallie was here I only saw Margaret the one evening and she felt very much hurt."

"You kept your promise."

"Yes, but she considers I should do more than that."

"Did you tell her you promised me that the other evenings should be mine?"

"Yes."

"Then it is nothing to break your promise to me? I don't want to find fault, Keith, but isn't a promise to me as sacred as one to Margaret?"

"Oh, Vera!" Please don't commence finding fault." He went out and closed the door.

What should I do?

Keith was wax in his sister's hands. That I knew. He loved me, of that I had no doubt. As far as other women went I never should be jealous again. I knew Alice De Lisle was often at Margaret's when he was there; but all feeling against her had long ago left me. It was Margaret, and Margaret only whom I had to fear.

The next time Keith went to her on any other than the night he had promised I called Erma.

"I'm coming over. Will Jim be too tired to take me home?"

"No indeed! Come right along."

We are playing cards now. Tom Benedict is here.

I went over and had a pleasant evening instead of remaining at home alone. I did not remain late and was at home quite a little while before Keith came in.

"I have had such a lovely time tonight," I commenced, "I went over to Erma's and she had cards, had Tom Benedict to make a fourth. We had some salad, and then Tom brought me home. Told Erma she could count on me for anything she had on hand whenever you were over to Margaret's. It's so silly to sit here alone when I might be having a good time."

There was no answer.

Gloria and Irene came over the next day but one.

"Talk about your monkey-and-parrot time, Vera. You should have heard Uncle Keith and mother when he came last night. He went for her good about the way she is acting toward you, and she gave him as good as he did her. It was great sport, I tell you. He said her demands upon him were driving you to seek your good times away from him, that you were too young to be left alone so much, to get enjoyment where you could, and a lot of things like that. I heard them going it hot and heavy so I hid on the stairs and listened."

"You shouldn't do that, dear," I chided, my heart beating fast. Had Keith at last stood up for me?
